NUMB. 1097

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27. 1738.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland

Constantinople, Oct. 30. O. S.

WHEN the Grand Vizier left the Army, Prince Ragotski was very importunate to return with him to this City, but he would not agree to it, so that the Prince was obliged to stay behind at Widdin, where he is like to pass the Winter. There were no publick Rejoicings here for the News of the Muscovites having abadon'd Oczakow and Kenburn, because it came when the Plague was most raging; which, tho' it is since very much abated, still makes great Havock, and carries off many People every Day.

Vienna, Dec. 9. O. S. The Report of Prince Ragotski's Death still continues, but scarce gains any Credit; because it was at first given out that he died at Widdin, afterwards they said it was at Constantinople, and now they affirm that he died in Wallachia of a malighant Fever. Some Advices from Belgrade say, that a considerable Detachment of Turks advanc'd near that City, and actually made an Attempt against that call'd the Constantinople Gate, but were repuls'd with Loss.

Hanover, Dec. 15. O. S. The Troops of this Electorate, which have taken Possession of the Castle of Steinhorst, are intrenched there; and as some Pieces of Cannon are sent thither, they are actually in a Condition to defend themselves, if attack'd, till such time as the Forces arrive that are on the March to support them. They say here, that the King of Denmark has sent Orders to several Regiments that are in the Island of Fuhuen in Jutland and in Holstein, to march forthwith to the Bailywick of Steinhorst, and that they are to be reinforc'd by a Regiment of the Foot Guards, and by the Body of Grenadiers which is in Garison at Copenhagen. 'Tis hop'd, however, that the Differences that have arisen betwixt this Electorate and Denmark, on account of Steinhorst, will soon be amicably adjusted by the Mediation of a neighbouring Power, who we are assur'd has already offer'd his Mediation.

Hamburgh, Dec. 15. O. S. In the Manifesto published by the Government of Hanover on their taking Possession of the Bailywick of Steinhorst, 'tis declar'd amongst other Things, that the said Bailywick, which brings in 10,000 Crowns a Year, and contains 12 Villages, has ever belong'd to the Dutchy of Lawenbourg; that in 1568, and 1573, it was mortgaged to some private Creditors; that afterwards, in 1574, it was mortgaged by Francis Duke of Saxe Lawenbourg, to the Dukes of Holstein of the Gottorp Race, who engaged to pay those Creditors; that the latter sold it afterwards, first to a Gentleman of the Name of Ahlefeld, and then to M. Magnus de Wedderkoppen, President of the Duke of Holstein's Privy Council; and that after a Trial, depending several Years before the Chamber of Wetzlaar, concerning the Right of Superiority to this Bailywick, the present Duke Charles Frederick of Holstein, being desirous of putting an amicable End to this Difference, which could not be determined in a Course of Law, did, by virtue of a Deed executed on the 15th of January last, transfer all his Rights to the said Bailywick, and the Villages thereto belonging, to the Electoral Family of Hanover, and did afterwards, by Patent passed on the 25th of September last, discharge the Inhabitants of the said Territory from their Oath.

Warsaw, Dec. 6. O. S. The King went Abroad four Days ago for the first Time since his Recovery, and was thereupon complimented by the Senators, and other Persons of the highest Rank now in Town.

Naples, Nov. 28. O. S. Two Counsellors and the Auditor of the Army, went this Day se'nnight, by Order of the Court, with a Detachment of 40 Grenadiers, to the House of the Dutch Consul; where they seiz'd and sealed up several Papers, and at the same time arrested the Baron de Neuhoff, with his two Nephews, and conducted them in Sedans to Chiaia, where they were put on board a Galley for Gaeta. It was given out at first, that the Baron was only arrested to secure his Person against such as had a Design upon his Life; but now 'tis affirm'd to have been done at the Request of a certain foreign Power. The Dutch Captain, who brought the Baron de Neuhoff to this Place, and who was for that Reason put under an Arrest, was set at Liberty the Moment the Baron was put on board, and next Day the three foreign Ships that brought him, made several Discharges of their Cannon. The Baron and his Nephews being brought to Gaeta, were deliver'd over as Prisoners of State to the Governor of the Citadel, who has Orders to treat them well; but to take great Care that they don't make their Escape. Various are the Guesses of the Publick, at the Motives which have induc'd the Neopolitan Court to transport the Baron to the Castle of Gaeta: The most probable Opinion is, that the Court of France being agreed with that of Spain, in the Regulation of the Affairs of Italy, the former has engag'd the latter to put this Baron under an Arrest, in order to compleat the Re-establishment of Tranquility in the Island of Corsica.

Genoa, Dec. 2. O. S. We have received Advice, that on the 21st ult. the King of the Two Sicilies, at the Sollicitation of the Kings of France and Spain, caused the Baron de Neuhoff to be arrested at Naples, with two of his Nephews, who accompanied him in his Rambles, and that they were all three committed Prisoners to the Castle of Gaeta. This News has occasioned Rejoicings in several Quarters of this City; and the Joy of the People is infinitely greater than it was two Years ago, when they heard that the Baron was a Prisoner at Amsterdam. The Senate has had an extraordinary Assembly upon this Occasion, and has sent off an Advice Boat to carry the News to Bastia. 'Tis not doubted but the Malecontents in the Island of Corsica will be so alarmed at it, that they will universally submit to the Terms demanded of them.

Leghorn, Dec. 1. O. S. Just now we hear that the Count de Boissieux, General of the French Troops in the Island of Corsica, having received the News of the Baron de Neuhoff's being detain'd Prisoner at Gaeta, immediately dispatched a Subaltern Officer to give Notice of it to the Malecontents, and to represent to them, that as they have no more Hopes from that Quarter, they can have no Pretence for refusing their Submission to the Terms which have been proposed to them for an Accommodation.

Paris, Dec, 27. The Prince de la Torella Caracciolli, Ambassador from the King of the Two Sicilies, having received an Express from Naples with important Dispatches, went thereupon to Versailles, where he declared to the Ministers of the Court, that his Sicilian Majesty, out of Regard to the King's Representations, did, on the 21st ult. O. S. cause Baron de Neuhoff to be apprehended in a House at Naples, from whence he was immediately carry'd to the Castle of Gaeta, where he is to be kept Prisoner till the Restoration of a perfect Tranquility in the Island of Corsica; after which he will, in all Probability, be set at Liberty, on Condition that he never meddle any more with the Affairs of that Island.

Letters from Caen in Normandy, make mention of a great Entertainment made there on the Birth-day of the King of Great Britain, by the English Gentlemen of the Royal Academy, erected there by M. de la Guermiere, which began with a grand military Carousal, of which the Nobility of that City and Province were, by Invitation, Spectators; and in the Evening, there was a grand Supper, when the English, and the other Students, waited on the Ladies at Table; after which a fine Firework was play'd off, and the Feast concluded with a Ball, which lasted till 8 o'Clock in the Morning.

Rome, Dec. 2. O. S. We have Advice by a Courier from Naples, going to Paris, that the Baron de Neuhoff has, by Order of the King of the Two Sicilies, been arrested at Naples, and carried Prisoner to Gaeta, with two Persons in his Retinue; but that his Sicilian Majesty had order'd he should be civily treated, and suffer'd to wear a Sword.

A PROPHECY: Occasion'd by a PROPHECY.

FROM Boling's Spring when Brooks shall go,
And a wrong Course for ever flow;
Polluting all the Waters near
With muddy Streams, that once were clear!
When the learn'd 'Squire of Grey, turns Black;
And bears whole Kingdoms on his Back;
Rancour its Friendship shall profess;
And Falshood hug —— and Treach'ry bless;
When Fraud puts on Affection's Smile;
And kind Abundance starves our Isle;
Rich Commerce spoils a Nation's Trade,
And States, by Wealth, are Bankrupts made.
A Traitor's Fame Rome's Poet sings,
And pleads for Guilt —— and libels Kings:
When Patriots, fond of those they curst,
With their last Vote, shall damn their first;
In Print their Virtues now harangu'd,
They wou'd before in Smiles have hang'd:
When Newgate Cells grow Cells of Fame;
And Saints a Worth from Treachery claim!
Soft Peace shall sigh full sore for War!
And George's Foes, want George's Star.
Subjects of every Bliss complain,
And rail at Power, they cannot gain!
Wits claim a Right to Ruse the State,
And guide the Throne they scorn or hate.

Old Credit then shall lift her Head;
Trade stretch her Sail, and Commerce spread;
Near Tagus Banks our Fleets shall roar,
And shake the Towers on Ibers Shoar!
Bear Terror to each World's Extream,
From Calpe's Rocks to Plata's Stream.
All Europe then from Wars shall cease;
And Britains Voice bestow the Peace!
Rescu'd from every Ill she fears;
While Brunswick reigns —— and Walpole steers. ——
